NEW BUILDING

At Marion C. H., (So. Ca.) is completed; and is now in perfect readiness for the reception of travellers. Her House is two story in height, with large and convenient rooms, and is located upon a high and dry Lot, in the very centre of the village, and within a few yards of all the public offices. In addition to the above, there is a wing a little in the rear of the building, so that one or more private families can be accommodated entirely to themselves. The Northern and Southern Stages stop at this House. If the inducements offered above, together with excellent and warm stables, well supplied with provender and attended by careful Ostlers, be any criterion by which to judge; the Subscriber is induced to expect a liberal share of the public patronage, which it will be her increasing endeavour to merit.

Specific for Ague and Fever.

THOMAS'S INDIAN MEDICAMENTUM,

AN infallible remedy for Ague and Fever, and all diseases of the stomach, arising from bile. Experience, the surest and most convincing teacher, has most satisfactorily proved the efficacy of this medicine, as a remedy for the above named diseases.

It has frequently been tried, in long standing cases of Ague and Fever, and has been attended with success. If resorted to on the first attack of the Ague, one dose is sufficient.

Patients who use this medicine, will not find themselves, while using it, under the necessity of changing their ordinary diet, or suspending their attention to business.

When the stomach is surcharged with bile, one dose of the MEDICAMENTUM gives relief, as it cleanses the stomach of all morbid humours and prevents all predisposition to head-ache, indigestion and fevers, it will be found to be one of the most useful and convenient Spring and Fall purgatives that can be resorted to.

For sale by
THOMAS COCHRAN,
North East corner of Market Square.

To the Public.

THE Subscribers do most cheerfully recommend THOMAS'S INDIAN MEDICAMENTUM, for Agues and Fevers, having suffered much from that distressing complaint and found no permanent relief until they made use of that Medicine. It is perfectly safe and gives immediate relief when taken according to directions.

Wholesale Emigration.—The Stuttgard Universal Gazette of Sept. 2d, announces that a plan is in progress in the South-west of Germany, to make up a State and ship it over to the United States, to become a twenty-fifth member of the Confederacy. The following notice of the project appears in that publication:—

"According to the accounts from the south west of Germany, a society of liberal men are organizing a grand plan for emigration to North America. The emigration has hitherto been precarious, because it did not rest on any solid foundation, and because the means were not concentrated. But now it is different, as the object is to form a New Germany beyond the ocean, which is to receive all those whose hopes and claims to liberty and right are disappointed in Old Germany. In order to be admitted into the Confederation of the United States of America, the law requires the number of free inhabitants, above 25 years of age, to be 60,000, [40,000 without distinction of age, Eds. J. C.] and this number is to be assembled before any further measures can be taken. Many of the Germans established in North America will join their countrymen; and the plan is so popular in Germany that scarcely any doubts are entertained of its being successful."

A great deal has been said of the prodigality of Mr. Watson Taylor's silver fire shovel, tongs, and poker; but at Burleigh, and many other noble houses, the dogs (for wood fires,) fenders, &c. of the state rooms, are all silver. At Ham House, the bellows, brush handle, fire shovel, tongs, poker, &c. of one room are of silver, exquisitely chased; and at Dunham Massy, in Cheshire, the seat of the Earl of Stamford, the most common utensils in the house are silver, in consequence of the will of an ancestor that between two and three thousand pounds a year should be laid out in the purchase of silver plate.
London paper.

BURNING OF RICHMOND THEATRE.

The following interesting account of this melancholy occurrence of 1811, is taken from the new work, "A History of the American Theatre."

The house was fuller than on any night of the season. The play was over, and the first act of the pantomine had passed. The second and last had begun. All was yet gayety, all so far had been pleasure, curiosity was yet alive, and further gratification anticipated—the orchestra sent forth its sounds of harmony and joy—when the audience perceived some confusion on the stage, and presently a shower of sparks falling from above. Some were startled, others thought it was a part of the scenic exhibition. A performer on the stage received a portion of the burning materials from on high, and it was perceived that others were tearing down the scenery. Some one cried out from the stage that there was no danger. Immediately after, Hopkins Robinson ran forward and cried out "the house is on fire!" pointing to the ceiling, where the flames were progressing like wild-fire. In a moment, all was appalling horror and distress. Robinson handed several persons from the boxes to the stage, as a ready way for their escape. The cry of "Fire, Fire!" ran through the house, mingled with the wailings of females and children. The general rush was to gain the lobbies. It appears from the following description of the house, and the scene that ensued, that this was the cause of the great loss of life.

The general entrance to the pit and boxes was through a door not more than large enough to admit three persons abreast. This outer entrance was within a trifling distance of the pit door, and gave an easy escape to them in that part of the house. But to attain the boxes from the street it was necessary to descend into a long passage, and ascend again by an angular staircase. The gallery had a distinct entrance, and its occupants escaped. The suffering and death fell on the occupants of the boxes, who, panic struck, did not see that the pit was immediately left vacant, but pressed on to gain the crowded and tortuous way by which they had entered. The pit door was so near the general entrance, that those who occupied that portion of the house gained the street with ease. A gentleman who escaped from the pit among the last, saw it empty, and when in the street, looked back again upon the general entrance to the pit and boxes, and the door had not yet been reached by those from the lobbies.

A gentleman and lady were saved by being thrown accidentally into the pit, and most of those who perished would have escaped if they had leaped from the boxes and sought that avenue to the street. But all darted to the lobbies. The stairs were blocked up. All was enveloped in hot scorching smoke and flame. The lights were extinguished by the black and smothering vapour, and the shrieks of despair were appalling. Happy for a moment were those who gained a window and inhaled the air of heaven. Those who had issued to the street cried to the sufferers at the windows to leap down, and stretched out their arms to save them. Some were seen struggling to gain the apertures to inhale the fresh air. Men, women and children precipitated themselves from the first and second stories. Some escaped unhurt—others were killed or mangled by the fall. Some with their clothes on fire, shrieking, leaped from the windows to gain a short reprieve and die in agonies.

"Who can picture," says a correspondent of the Mirror, "the distress of those who, unable to gain the windows or afraid to leap from them, were pent up in the long narrow passages." The [illegible] of those who reached the upper windows are described as being heart-sickening. Many who found their way to the street were so scorched or burnt as to die in consequence, and some were crushed to death under foot after reaching the outer door.

Add to this mass of suffering, the feelings of those who knew that they had relatives or friends who had gone to the house that night. Such rushed half frantic to the spot with the crowds of citizens from all quarters—while the tolling bells sounded the knell of death to the heart of the father or mother whose child had been permitted to visit the theatre on that night of horror.

"As my father was leading me home," said Mr. Henry Placide, "we saw Mr. Greene, exhausted by previous exertion, leaning on a fence; and looking at the scene of ruin. For all was now one black mass of smoking destruction. "Thank God!" ejaculated Greene, "Thank God! I prohibited Nancy from coming to the house to-night! She is safe."

Nancy was his only daughter, just springing into womanhood, still at the boarding-school of Mrs. Gibson; and as beautiful and lovely a girl as imagination can picture.

Mrs. Gibson and the boarders had made up a party for the theatre that evening, and Nancy Greene asked her father's permission to accompany them.—He refused—but unfortunately added his reason—"the house will be crowded, and you will occupy a seat that would be otherwise paid for." On these words hung the fate of youth, innocence, and beauty. "I will pay for your ticket, said the kind instructress, we will not leave you behind." The teacher and the pupil were buried in the ruins on which the father gazed, and over which he returned thanks for the safety of his child. He went home and learned the truth.

An instance of the escape of a family is given.—The husband, with three children, were in the second boxes; his wife with a female friend, in another part of the house. The wife gained a window—leaped out and escaped unhurt. Her friend followed and was killed. The father clasped two helpless girls to his breast, and left a boy of twelve years of age to follow—the boy was forced from the father, ran to a window, sprang out and was safe. The parent with his precious charge, followed the stairway, pressed upon by those behind him, and those who mounted on the heads and shoulders of the crowd before them—he became unconscious, but was still borne along—he was taken up, carried to his bed, and opened his eyes to see all his family safe.

On the contrary, Lieut. Gibbon, of the Navy, as exemplary in private life as heroic in the service of his country and on the brink of a union with Miss Conyers, the pride of Richmond for every accomplishment and virtue—was swept into eternity while exerting himself to do all that man should do in such trying circumstances. He was with his mother at the theatre, and carried her to a place of safety—then rushed back to save her in whose fate his own was bound up—he caught her in his arms—had borne her partly down the staircase, when the steps gave way, and a body of flame swept them to eternity.

Friday, the 27th December, 1811, was a day of mourning to Richmond. The banks and stores were closed. A law was passed prohibiting amusements of every kind for four months. A day was set apart for humiliation and prayer. A monument was resolved on—to be erected to the memory of the dead and the event.

New York, Nov. 3.

LATE FROM EUROPE.—From the Journal of Commerce we take some extracts of London papers to the 23d of September, received by the Silas Richards packet of 24th September from Liverpool.

The death of Sir Walter Scott, is reported by Capt. Bursley of the Silas Richards, to have taken place at Edinburg on the 22d September.

The King of Spain is also reported dead.

The King of Holland had positively refused to treat with the King of Belgium as recommended by the London Conference; so that the probability of France and England being obliged to bring his Dutch majesty to reason by arms, is greatly increased. It must then appear whether or not he is supported in his obstinacy by Russia and Prussia.

The Cotton market, it will be seen, was rising.

Rejection of the Ultimatum of the London Conference.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Very little excitement has been produced in the money market by the confirmation of the rumors respecting the notes of the King of Holland, though in fact, to the general apprehension, it makes the alternative of a war all but inevitable. This is owing, probably, to the very contracted state of business and the almost total extinction of speculative transactions in the funds. Had similar circumstances occurred a year or two back, they could not have failed to produce very material fluctuations.

From the Sun, Evening of Sept. 22.

The expectations which were entertained by the Conference of a speedy and satisfactory arrangement of the Belgian ques ion are at an end. On Thursday evening a sealed note, from the King of Holland to the Conference, was given to Lord Palmerston by the Dutch Ambassador, Baron Von Zuylen; and last night the members of the Conference having all assembled the note was opened and read by them. Instead of finding as they had expected, an acknowledgment of the readiness of the King of Holland to treat with the King of Belgium, on the recommendations of the Conference, and an appointment of Baron Von Zuylen with full powers to treat with M. Van de Weyer, the Conference to their astonishment, and to the real indignation of some, as well as the avowed indignation of all, found a long note without the slightest allusion to the proposal of negotiations between M. Van de Weyer and Baron Von Zuylen, or to the suggestions of the Conference.

The note commences by an expression of surprise on the part of the writer, M. de Verstolk, in the name of the King, his master, at the delay which has attended the Belgian question since the conditions on which the King was willing to treat had been made known to the Conference and to the Belgians, and then proceeds, in language which is intended to be courteous, but which is not to be misunderstood, to complain of the support given by the Conference to revolutionary principles, and to declare that, whatever may be the conduct of the great powers, the King of Holland, relying on the justice of his cause, and on the support of Divine Providence, will know how to maintain his honor without the necessity of conceding points which are of vital importance to his country.

The note is of great length, but we have given its chief character. It is evidently intended only for farther delay; and, unless France and England should act a decisive and manly part, that object will be gained. Let us hope, however, that the two cabinets will see their interest, and unite in a resolution to compel the King of Holland to conclude a treaty with Belgium, on terms which, without being dishonorable to him, shall be fair and liberal towards his former subjects.

The position of Leopold is now one of great difficulty; but, as regards his country and France, it is better than it was a few days ago. By taking upon himself to accept the proposals of the conference, contrary to the declared wishes of his Chambers, and to dismiss a ministry acting in accordance with those bodies, he has shown his desire for peace, and has now a direct claim for support on the British and French cabinets. The King of Holland has rejected all overtures for peace, except on his own terms; and if Belgium be abandoned by us and France, after the concessions offered by her King at the risk of his own popularity with his people, the two governments will be guilty not only of great meanness, but of great injustice; and the next thing to be expected will be a dictation to England and France, on matters directly concerning their own honor and safety by some petty state, acting as the puppet of Russia, Austria, or Prussia.—Sun.

DEATH OF FERDINAND OF SPAIN.

London, Sept. 22.—Intelligence has been received through France to-day, of the death of the King of Spain, which there is no reason for doubting, though some persons have declared themselves incredulous on the subject. His health has been declining for some time past, and he has lately had a severe attack of the gout. This news, if confirmed, is expected to hasten the approach of the crisis in Spain.

Liverpool, Sept. 24.—The sales of Cotton on Saturday were 5000 bags, of which 1000 were on speculation. Prices have risen ¼d per lb. in all but the highest qualities, since the 14th, and ¼d fully is established on all sorts. Our stock is now 250,000 bales against 312,000 at this time last year.

Turpentine has been sold at the reduced price of 10s10a10s11 per cwt., the arrivals having been large in the last ten days.—Salted Hides, middling quality, have been sold at 4¾d. lb.

We are happy to say the Board of Health have discontinued reports, and we expect now to be able to get clean bills of health.

We address you by the Silas Richards, which will sail in about an hour with a fair wind. There is a prospect of a large business in Cotton to-day.

The following letter was addressed to Jas. Mebane, Esq. in answer to one written by him to Mr. Wyche, giving him an account of work done by Mr. Keen this season on the Buckhorn Falls of Cape Fear river, and urging the propriety of his viewing the works himself before the commencement of the next session of the Assembly. It is published without Mr. Wyche's knowledge.

Ford Creek, 18th October, 1832.

MY DEAR SIR—Your acceptable letter of 13th inst. needed no apology; any communication from you on a subject which has occupied so much of your attention and which I am in duty bound to attend to, will be acceptable at all times. I calculate on visiting Buckhorn Falls before making my report, if nothing unforeseen turns up to prevent it. To guard against contingencies, Mr. Keen was requested to furnish me with the necessary facts. My present intention is to be in Haywood on the 3d Monday in November, and go from there to Raleigh after examining the works, accounts, &c. &c.

As the Cape Fear Navigation Company appears to be impatient at longer delay in receipt of tolls, and unwilling to do any thing above Fayetteville; suppose the company were to relinquish to the state the right to tolls above Fayetteville, and the state were to sluice Deep and Haw River as far as practicable, making wooden locks to pass mills, &c. and receive the tolls above Fayetteville? Or can you suggest any other plan to extend the navigation up those rivers and their tributary streams?

Upwards of thirty years ago the Appomattox company began to work on the river above Petersburg. Towns were laid off at various places, and much speculation on lots. Some were improved, and others forfeited for non-improvement. Public expectation was greatly raised for a few years; but when the excitement subsided, and the river began to be tried, disappointment and despair succeeded to sanguine expectations. The towns were deserted, houses going to decay, and every thing exhibited a gloomy aspect. A few, very few, continued to use the river occasionally, till about twelve years ago some enterprising men of capital commenced business at Farmville (60 miles above Petersburg,) repaired the decayed warehouses, revived the inspection of tobacco, and started boats on the river. At once the place revived, and has continued to flourish ever since. I suppose from 1000 to 2000 hogsheads of tobacco and many barrels of flour are carried there every year and sent down the river. Land continues to sell well, and the whole country is in a state of comparative prosperity. The same thing occurred on James river at an earlier day. These facts keep me from despairing of our ultimate success. Wilmington has as many commercial facilities as Petersburg. The river below Fayetteville is vastly better than James river above Richmond. What then is wanting but extending the improvements up the rivers into the fertile country at their heads? Why should wagons transport produce from Guilford, Randolph and Orange to Petersburg, when they could go by water to as good a market at Wilmington? It appears to me that nothing can be wanting to give the trade that direction, but opening the rivers and overcoming long habits.

All our efforts at internal improvement seem to have been by fits and starts. Nothing of that patient, persevering, laborious effort, which will surmount great obstacles and command success. I fear our attempts at constructing rail roads will be commenced too much in the same temper. The Central Rail Road would require much time and great expenditures to succeed. The Yadkin and Cape Fear could be more easily effected. If this were done, Fayetteville and Wilmington would both receive a powerful impulse. The more produce was carried to those markets, the higher would be the prices given for it; because the transactions would be larger and the competition greater; both of which circumstances compel merchants to put up with less profits. But I must stop, or you will begin to think me as great an enthusiast on the subject of internal improvement as yourself. Very respectfully, your friend and humble servant, JAMES WYCHE.

WEBSTER vs. NULLIFICATION.—The Boston Patriot states, that, at the request of a friend, the Hon. Daniel Webster has consented to give his opinion upon the question—has the power of a State a right to nullify a law of the United States? The Patriot remarks—"the known familiarity of Mr. Webster with this subject, the accordance of his views upon it, with those of a vast majority of the people of the United States, who wish to preserve the Union, and the interest which has been already excited by his celebrated argument in defence of the principles of the Constitution, point to him as the most suitable person to undertake its defence on the present occasion, against the dangerous doctrines of the Vice President. We are led to believe that this discussion will soon be laid before the public. —It is certainly desirable that it may appear soon, as the state of things in South Carolina seems to be approaching a crisis of a most alarming nature. The people of that State should at least be informed of the view which is taken of their system of relief in the sister States, before they commit themselves to the hazardous experiment."

The Bond Case.—The United States, it seems, though they succeeded in obtaining a judgment against Messrs. Holmes & Mazyck, have found it impossible to make the money. A house of Mr. Holmes' was some time since levied upon by the Marshall, put up for sale, and knocked off to a State Rights man, who refused to comply with the terms of sale, on the ground of the unconstitutionality of the Tariff laws. After much consultation and deliberation among the officers of the Government the house was again put up for sale, yesterday, on account and risk of the former purchaser, but not a single bid could be obtained. Such is the State of public opinion here, in respect to the Tariff. It has been already practically nullified by public opinion. We ought to add that the Bond in this case was given for duties on an importation of coarse Woollens, in which the duties were imposed so exclusively for protection as to be prohibitory, and that the goods in question were imported by Mr. Holmes expressly for the purpose of trying the question.

Caution.—We learn, says the New York Commercial Advertiser, that two persons lately died at the upper end of Sullivan street, from swallowing poison by mistake, having taken it from a medicine chest which had been brought in a ship to the city, supposing the articles they selected to be magnesia and cream of tartar. The great danger of taking medicine, without professional advice, and without getting it from an apothecary who understands his profession, cannot be too often inculcated. In this instance it has been lamentably illustrated.

FROM THE RALEIGH REGISTER.

UNION MEETING.

At a very large and respectable meeting of the citizens of New Hanover county, friendly to the Union, held at the Town Hall in Wilmington on the 1st of November, 1832, Gen. James Owen was called to the Chair, and Gabriel Holmes, Esq. appointed Secretary. After an appropriate address from the Chair explaining the object of the meeting; the following Resolutions were offered by Duncan G. McRae, Esq. and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, As the sense of this meeting, that we regard the Union of these States, as the ark of our political safety.

Resolved, That we still cherish with affectionate regard the farewell advice of the Father of his Country, "To frown indignantly upon the first dawning of any attempt to alienate one portion of the Union from the other, &c."

Resolved, That we view the doctrine of Nullification as a wretched heresy from the political creed of the framers of our Constitution.

Resolved, That we view with the deepest concern, the hostile attitude against the General Government of the United States, assumed by the Legislature of South Carolina at their recent session.

Resolved, That a dissolution of the Union of these States would lead to anarchy and confusion, civil commotion and domestic strife and by weakening our resources, invite foreign aggression and eventuate in the worst of despotism.

Resolved, That we regard the proceedings of the dominant party in South Carolina, as calculated to bring about the most disastrous results.

Resolved, That at this eventful crisis it behooves all good citizens and patriots, more especially of the Southern States, to rally round the Constitution and shield it from the parricidal blow about to be aimed at its vitals.

On motion of Joseph A. Hill, Esq.

Resolved, That the Citizens of the Counties composing the 5th Congressional district, friendly to the Union, be invited to assemble at the Town Hall, in Wilmington, on Tuesday 11th day of December next, to make an expression of their sentiments in favor of the Union of these States.

On motion,

Resolved, That James Owen, Gabriel Holmes, Owen Holmes, James Kerr, Thomas Hill, Robert H. Cowan and George Fennell, be a Committee on behalf of this meeting, to confer with such Committees as may be appointed by the other counties of this District opposed to Nullification.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Newspapers printed in North Carolina.

Several spirited and patriotic addresses were made to the meeting, which was characterized by the most perfect harmony and order.

COUNTERFEIT NOTES.—We are informed through the medium of a letter from a friend in Waynesborough, Wayne County, that a considerable quantity of counterfeit United States Bank Notes has recently been passed off in that neighborhood. One gentleman had received $600 in twenty dollar bills, all of which were bad. Previous to his discovering that they were not genuine, he had passed to different individuals between two and three hundred dollars, thus giving them a wide distribution. The Notes are of the old plate, signed (except two of them) by Biddle and McIlvaine—Letter U—date 1830—paper, very light, thin and bad—made payable in different States. The two excepted above, are signed Milton and Hamilton, payable at New York. The money is supposed to have been brought from the South, by a negro trader.

PEMMEKIN.—Does the reader know what Pemmekin is? Should he not be so far informed, we will tell him, that Pemmekin is a name given to the previously inanimate mass formed for the nourishment of the sailors, who went under Capt. Parry's command to the North Pole—a concentration of the nutritious qualities of meat, so powerful, that fifty pounds of beef make about a square inch of it; as much of it scraped as will lie on a shilling, will feed a fellow six feet high and four feet broad, for two and twenty hours; its great merit is of course its portability, and its utility must be evident to the most inveterately prejudiced landsman, when he comes to consider that Jack can carry a quarter of a bullock in his tobacco box, and stow away a half a dozen hams and a fillet of veal in the fob of his trowsers.

NULLIFICATION.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Courier gives the following as the expressed sentiment of the French people, on the scheme of Nullification: "The United States sprang from a question about stamp duties: Will they perish by a question concerning custom house duties?" Or, as a member of Congress expressed it last winter —Will they go to war about a doubtful point in the science of political economy?

STRAWBERRIES IN NOVEMBER.—We were presented yesterday with a parcel of fine ripe strawberries, which grew spontaneously in a field on the farm of Mr. Barkman, about two miles from the city, on the Frederick road.

PROGRESS OF STEAM POWER.—A scientific gentleman lately visiting the Liverpool and Manchester railway, some very extraordinary performances were effected. On two occasions, a load, amounting to 100 tons, was drawn by one engine from Liverpool to Manchester, a distance of about 30 miles in an hour and a half, being at the average rate of 20 miles an hour. An eight horse wagon, on a common road, is capable of carrying only eight tons a day. It would take 100 horses, working for the day on a turnpike road, to perform the same work as was here accomplished by a single steam engine in an hour and a half.—Liverpool Advertiser.

Remarkable Longevity.—A highly respectable merchant of this place informs us, that he saw, a few weeks since, in Wilkes county, N. C. a man named Daniel Rash, who was one hundred and three years of age, and that his body was healthy and vigorous, his mind and memory wholly unimpaired, his sight perfectly good—having never used spectacles, and what is perhaps more remarkable than all this, our informant states, that within the last three years, his mouth has been supplied with five new front teeth!—Abbeville Whig.

From the Greensborough Patriot.

BEAUTIES OF THE QUAKER LAW.—When our last Legislature placed upon our statute book that outlandish and Pagan enactment, called the Quaker law, we did not believe that a scoundrel existed in this State, so devoid of those qualities which constitute the man, as to make any movements towards enforcing it.—Many acts are passed which reflect impervious disgrace upon the people of the State for choosing SUCH a legislature; but such acts are generally permitted to remain in speaking silence upon the records of corrupt and depraved legislation:—not so, however, with the one under consideration. It seems to have been reserved for this age of religious toleration, to enforce a law, of which, even its authors are ashamed.

Three cases have recently come to our knowledge, which we shall take the liberty of mentioning. The first was in Orange; a young man, connected by membership with the Society of Friends, aged about 22 years, residing with his father and mother, was called upon for four dollars, the amount of muster fines that had accumulated against him, for refusing to perform malishus juty. He refused to pay the money, and although he was sick—perhaps in bed—he was seized with a ca. sa, or execution for his body, and his course pointed to the prison in Hillsborough!—Here his father interrupted, and implored the officers of the law to spare the young man until he recovered from his sickness, and then he should be delivered up as a sacrifice to the good of his country! But all in vain;—they dragged him from his bed, in almost a helpless condition, and started with him to the county jail, where he would have been incarcerated, had they not been met by a Methodist Preacher, whose soul was not encased in steel, who paid down the poor, pitiful four dollars, and directed the prisoner to be discharged.

The second case occurred in the same section of country, but whether in Orange or not, we cannot say. The amount claimed in this case, by the gentleman of the cornstalk sword and borrowed epaulet, was one dollar and fifty cents; and for this sum they levied an execution upon a horse worth one hundred dollars! After much remonstrance, however, they were prevailed upon to release the horse, and levy upon two fattening hogs in the pen, which they bore off in triumph, whistling in concert with the squeeking of their less hoggish prisoners! It is known to the world, that any thing seized and sold in this way, though it may fifty times over pay the amount demanded, the Quakers make it a matter of conscience to refuse! and this accounts for the eagerness of these ministers of justice, to sell the horse, instead of something, the value of which would about cover their demand. They well knew that Picket, for such we believe was the Quaker's name, would refuse the overplus, which they would be at liberty to spend for grog, and drink it, that they might be inspired to other such "deeds of noble daring."

The third and last case we shall mention now, occurred in this county. A quaker gentleman—for such he always has been, in every sense of the word, named Wm. Hill, was called upon for the amount due his "capting" and "drummer," which was of course, not paid. He had been at much labor and expense to procure his seed wheat of a superior quality. Quakers are generally good farmers as well as good citizens. He had got part of his wheat sowed; and the constable seized on the remainder, knowing it to be the last article with which he would willingly part. This officer knowing—as well as every body else knows—the accomodating disposition at all times manifested by the members of this society, had the confidence to ask the unresisting Mr. Hill, for the loan of bags to carry his wheat away in! Coble never would have thought of asking any body but a quaker for such a favor! He was not accommodated however, as the bags were all full of something, as every industrious man's bags are apt to be. A very intelligent old lady, in alluding to this circumstance, remarked, "that it was a maxim with the society to keep full bags and empty bottles."

We would here drop the subject for the present, if it were not necessary that every time we say "Quaker" it is necessary to deny the oft-reiterated charge of being connected with that harmless, industrious and persecuted sect of Christians! We again say, for the ninety-ninth time, we are not now—nor have we ever been nor do we ever expect to be, in any shape or form, connected with that society. If, after this, any man should think that when we are smitten, "on one cheek" we will "turn to him the other also," let him be fool enough to try it, and we shall take the earliest opportunity to convince him of his mistake!

THE CHOLERA.—This direful scourge of the human race we are apprehensive has at length reached our city in reality.

Two white men, who lived on the Levee and slept underneath the wharves, near Poydras street, were taken suddenly ill yesterday morning after breakfasting on a quantity of cabbage, thrown from on board a steam boat in a decayed state, and died in a few hours afterwards. Three negroes attached to a cotton press, in the immediate neighborhood, also sickened suddenly and died in the course of the afternoon. We have been informed too that another negro, employed as a fireman on board of a steam boat, was taken and died in a similar manner. One case of confirmed cholera is said to exist in the Charity Hospital. Whether the others were cases of genuine spasmodic cholera, we leave it to physicians to decide; we merely state the facts, which, to say the least, carry suspicions of a disease of a peculiar type and marked malignity, and differing essentially from the yellow fever, having entered among us.

New Orleans Adv. 26th ult.

POPULATION OF FRANCE.—The census of 1827 showed an increase in the population of France, in the space of five years, of 1,400,000. That of 1832 shows an increase of but little more than 700,000. In the department of the Seine there is a positive diminution of 78,000 inhabitants. This diminution is to be attributed to the political state of France. The present population of the kingdom is 32,560,934.

THE VALLEY OF VIRGINIA.—Jefferson land maintains at this time a high value. Not long since, a farm on Bullskin, with dilapidated buildings, was sold at auction for $45 25 per acre. The worst land in the county, (the mountain always excepted,) would bring not less than 25 dollars an acre; and if flour should continue at its present handsome price, we may even calculate on a further advance in the value of our choice farms. This is truly the "garden spot."

The Poem of the Hon. John Q. Adams, entitled Dermot Mac Morrogh, or the Conquest of Ireland, was to be published at Boston, on the 3d inst. It is an octavo of 108 pages.

The Legislature of Georgia assembled on the 5th inst. The Message of Gov. Lumpkin is long and well written. The first subject broached is the decision of the Supreme Court, which he treats as follows:

"Our conflicts with Federal usurpation are not yet at an end; the events of the past year have afforded us new cause for distrust and dissatisfaction. Contrary to the enlightened opinions, and just expectations of the people of this, and every other State in the Union, a majority of the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, have not only assumed jurisdiction, in the cases of Worcester and Butler, but have, by their decision, attempted to overthrow that essential jurisdiction of the State, in Criminal cases, which has been vested by our Constitution in the Superior Courts of our own State. In conformity with their decision, a mandate was issued, directed to our Court, ordering a reversal of the decree under which those persons are imprisoned: thereby attempting, and intending to prostrate the sovereignty of this State in the exercise of its Constitutional criminal jurisdiction. These extraordinary proceedings of the Supreme Court, have not been submitted to me officially, nor have they been brought before me in any manner, which called for my official action. I have, however, been prepared to meet this usurpation of Federal power, with the most prompt and determined resistance, in whatever form its enforcement might have been attempted, by any branch of the Federal Government. It has afforded me great satisfaction to find that our whole people, as with the voice of one man, have manifested a calm, but firm and determined resolution, to sustain the authorities and sovereignty of their State, against this unjust and unconstitutional encroachment of the Federal Judiciary. The ingenuity of man might be challenged, to show a single sentence in the Constitution of the U. States, giving power, either direct or implied, to the General Government, or any of its Departments, to nullify the laws of a State, enacted for the government of its own population, or coerce obedience, by force, to the mandates of the Judiciary of the Union. On the contrary, the journals and proceedings of the Convention that framed the Federal Constitution, abundantly evince, that various attempts were made to effect that object, all of which were rejected. This proves that the States of this Union never did, and never will permit their political rights to be suspended upon the breath of the agents or trustees, to whom they have delegated limited powers to perform certain definite acts. I, however, deem it unnecessary for me, a this time, to animadvert on this decision of the Supreme Court. Its fallacy, its inconsistency with former decisions, and its obvious tendency to intermeddle with the political rights of the States, and to change our Federal system into one consolidated mass, has been so often exposed by the most able jurists and statesmen, that a large majority of the people of this Union are confirmed in the conviction of the fallability, infirmities and errors of this Supreme tribunal. This branch of the General Government must henceforth stand where it always ought to have stood, in public estimation, as being liable to all the frailties and weakness of erring man."

He closes his Message with an argument against South Carolina Nullification, from which the following is an extract:

"Georgia should not suffer herself to be deluded or flattered into the belief, that her rights have heretofore been maintained upon the principles and doctrines of Nullification, as contended for by its present advocates. It is true, we may look back with pride and pain, on our past conflicts with Federal usurpation. Upon several occasions, we have been compelled to throw ourselves upon our reserved rights and resist Federal encroachments; but we have never veiled ourselves in the flimsy garment of peaceable, constitutional nullification. In these delicate and highly responsible acts, Georgia has always relied on her own population, the justice of her cause, and the virtue and intelligence of the people of the United States, to sustain her unquestionable constitutional rights. And, hitherto, our confidence has not been misplaced; we have had able friends and advocates in every part of the Union, who have stood by us in times of the greatest peril. We are at present very improperly charged with nullifying the intercourse laws and Indian treaties of the U. States, when in fact, these laws and treaties were set aside, and have become measurably obsolete by the acts and assumptions of the Cherokee Indians themselves. Georgia, by her course of policy, has only nullified the arrogant assumptions of sovereign power, claimed and set up by a remnant of the aboriginal race, within her acknowledged chartered limits.

The election of a Senator in Congress in the place of Mr. ROBBINS, whose term of office will expire on the 3d of March next, has been postponed by the House of Representatives of Rhode Island until January next.

Since our paper of yesterday was issued, we have received the Maysville and Louisville papers of the 1st inst. which say nothing of the death of Mr. Senator Bibb, and we infer that the information communicated by the letter from Maysville is incorrect.—Nat. Int.

TENNESSEE STATE BANK.—A bill has passed both branches of the Legislature of Tennessee, incorporating a State Bank, with a capital of a million and a half of dollars. For the half million, the State is to issue scrip, bearing six per cent. interest, which will be placed at the disposal of the corporation, and to that amount the State is to be a stockholder in the new Bank.

We lay before our readers, the Report of the Select Committee of the House of Representatives of Tennessee, on the address of Mitchell King, Esq., the Delegate of the Union party of this State, inviting the concurrence of Tennessee in the project of a Southern Convention. It will be seen that although Tennessee regards herself as essentially a Southern State, in her feelings, position and pursuits, yet she recognizes nothing in the present aspect of affairs, that will warrant any species of extra-constitutional action. Nullification she condemns as a new and dangerous doctrine, and as evidencing a spirit of disaffection to the Union. The House of Representatives decline appointing delegates to the proposed convention, but wish not to be understood as committing their constituents against the measure, if subsequent events should render it necessary. The House, as respects the unofficial character of the body represented by Mr. King, waived the point of etiquette, in consideration of the intrinsic importance of the subject matter of his communication, and in the resolution adopted on the occasion, do-ly appreciate the patriotic motives of the Union party of South Carolina.—C. Courier.

A few days previous to a recent election a candidate for the office of sheriff was thus accosted by a neighbor—"Well, sir, I hope you may be elected, for I would rather be hung by you than any body else. "And I," replied the candidate, "would rather hang you than any body else."—Eng. paper.

OBSERVER.

FAYETTEVILLE:

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 13, 1832.

THE ELECTION.—In this town, on Thursday last, the polls were thinly attended, in consequence, chiefly, of the weather; but much animation was exhibited by the Van Buren and Clay parties. As for the Barbour party, they had been so dispirited and mortified by his letter, that but few of them adhered to him. Only 15 votes were cast for that Ticket in the town, and but 58 in the whole county. In Raleigh, not a single vote was received by that Ticket, not even from the Barbour Central Committee, or our friends of the Star, whose Extra, issued about 10 days ago, has, we verily believe, secured the vote of this State for Mr. Van Buren. It would be useless now to complain; but we do consider it most unfortunate that whilst it was in their power, by encouraging exhortations to perseverance, to elect an Anti-Tariff Ticket, and defeat Van Buren, they should at once give up the contest, and turn over their influence to the man whom it was their prime object to defeat. By placing a construction on Mr. Barbour's letter which none others but the Van Buren party put upon it, and announcing to the people, that they could not see how it could be regarded otherwise than as a total withdrawal, they weakened, divided, destroyed, their own party. But as we have said, it is useless now to complain. We have no doubt that they were guided by honorable, though, we think, inconsiderate motives.

The returns are too few, as yet, to enable us to form any opinion of the extent to which Judge Barbour's letter has operated. There can be but little doubt, however, of the success of the Van Buren Ticket, a result, which could not have happened if the Barbour party had remained firm.

The following are all the returns that have reached us:

	Barbour.	Van Buren.	Clay.
Cumberland,	58	593	183
Richmond,	50	240	70
Anson,	39	529	111
Montgomery,	331	59	85
Cabarrus,	249	79	173
Mecklenburg (part)	166	355	167
Newbern,		127	125
Moore, (1 election)		74	1
Rowan (3 elections)	286	143	56
Davidson (1 do.)	50	0	0
New Hanover,	6	541	74

In Wake we learn that Judge Barbour's friends did not vote for him, and the Van Buren Ticket got four or five to Clay's one. In Raleigh, the vote was, Van Buren 157, Clay 48. Election thin, as every where else.

The Charlotte Journal says, "The day proving unfavorable, not more than half the usual number of votes were given in. The letter of Judge Barbour, which was received a few days before the election, completely changed the election in this county."

PENNSYLVANIA.

This State has elected the Jackson Ticket, by a majority estimated at near 20,000 votes. This is a result unexpected, we believe, even by the most sanguine Jackson men; & has been produced by a failure of the Anti-Masons and National Republicans to unite, as it was believed by all parties that they would. This may be considered as settling the question.—Gen. Jackson will undoubtedly be re-elected, and we shall not be at all surprised if New York and Ohio swell his majority, and make it even larger than at the last election. The full returns have not yet been received.

VIRGINIA.

Thirty-nine counties have been heard from, either in whole or in part, which give 8973 votes for the Jackson Ticket, and 4068 for the Clay Ticket. There are upwards of 100 counties in the State.

The Alexandria Gazette says, "The leaders of the party in Virginia, up to the last moment, were fearful that the "entire" ticket would not be swallowed. They believed that Mr. Van Buren would be too bitter a dose to mix with Jacksonism, which of itself was bad enough, and only taken from necessity.—Hence, in this section of the State, the Jackson tickets were carefully pruned of the mention of any candidate whatever for the Vice Presidency, and the voters were thus, in many instances, misled by supposing that they were not voting the Van Buren ticket."

OHIO.

In sixteen counties, the Clay Ticket has 15,194 votes; the Jackson Ticket 9,953.

We understand there are further accounts, which we have not seen, giving a majority of 6,000 to Jackson.

GEORGIA.

The counties of Chatham and Baldwin only have been heard from. They give to the Jackson and Van B. Ticket 700 votes, and to the Jackson and Barbour Ticket 360. Very little interest is taken in the election. Two of the Milledgeville papers, published three days after the election, do not even mention it.

CONNECTICUT.

In this State but partial returns have been received, which are 3 to 1 for Clay.

NEW YORK.

No returns as yet from this State. On the two first days of the election, in the City, upwards of 23,000 votes were polled; and it was expected, that 30,000 would be given in.

Verbal reports, brought by passengers in last night's Norfolk Stage, represent the success of the Jackson Ticket in the city, by a majority of 5,000 votes, out of 30,000.

COTTON has been in brisk demand during the past week. Some prime lots have sold as high as $11 25. The highest price given this morning is $11 05

The Superior Court for this County is now in Session,—Judge Strange presiding.

Union Meetings, reprobating the doctrine of Nullification, have been held in Buncombe, Macon, and Lincoln Counties. There is but little Nullification in North Carolina.

U. S. Bank Stock has fallen in New York, since the Pennsylvania Election, from 120 to 116!

The Legislature of North Carolina will assemble on Monday next, the 19th inst. The important subjects of Convention, fixing the Seat of Government, and Banks, will claim a large share of its attention. We shall probably receive in time for our next paper, an account of the organization of the two Houses.

Francis T. Leake, Esq., has been appointed Postmaster at Rockingham, Richmond County, N. Carolina.

Several Communications are omitted for want of room. They shall appear in our next.

The Cholera.—The deaths at Cincinnati have decreased to about 7 a day. At many of the smaller towns in the West it is raging with more or less violence.

At Charleston, S. C. early last week, there was one death by Cholera of a person who had visited the wreck of the Amelia, on Folly Island. No case has subsequently occurred in the city. Nine deaths in addition to those noticed last week, had happened among the passengers and crew of the Amelia; and three persons who had been on board the wreck, returned to Charleston, and were sent back to the Island, died. There is but little reason to hope for exemption in Charleston.

The existence of the disease is also announced at St. Louis, Missouri.

The whole number of deaths, in the city of New York, the past week, is 125—of which 11 of cholera morbus.

CHOLERA IN NEW ORLEANS.—The Board of Health of New Orleans have officially announced the existence of Malignant Cholera within the precincts of that city. The Board have adopted resolutions, to procure, under the authority of the City Council, daily reports of all cases of Cholera from the physicians of the city and suburbs, and to take all necessary steps for the visitation of Cholera patients, and inspection of hospitals.

Speaking Out.—The following paragraph is from the New York Standard of the 5th inst., where it is most conspicuously inserted. We have no doubt that it discloses the true reason for the opposition of the Van Buren party in that State to the U. States Bank. How despicable the party, which opposes the Bank as unconstitutional, and yet are intent upon the establishment of another upon its ruins as soon as they can put it down. The question of constitutionality depends upon the location of the Mother Bank. The reader will notice the date of this unprincipled appeal to mercenary feelings. It was after the Pennsylvania election, and before that of New York.

FROM THE NEW YORK STANDARD.

If the United States Bank were located in this city, wages, property and business, would be greater by one fourth than they are now. If Jackson is defeated, the bank will be re-chartered, and remain in Philadelphia. If Jackson is re-elected, a new bank will be organized, and it will be located in New York.—We shall then have our share, and our turn.—Every man is interested in this matter. "A word to the wise."

Vermont Senator.—Benjamin Swift, Esq. late a member of the House of Representatives from Vermont, has been elected to the Senate by the Legislature of that State, in the place of Mr. Seymour, whose term of service expires on the fourth of March next.

RESIGNATION OF MR. TAZEWELL.

We learn from unquestionable authority, that Gov. Floyd has received a letter from Littleton W. Tazewell, Esq., resigning his seat in the Senate of the U. States.—He leaves no superior in talents behind him.

Rich. Enq.

New York, November 1.

CONSECRATION OF BISHOPS.—Yesterday, in St. Paul's Chapel, a very interesting service was performed in the consecration of four individuals as Bishops of the Episcopal Church. They are as follows:

Rt. Rev. John H. Hopkins, D. D. Bishop of Vermont.

Rt. Rev. Benj. B. Smith, D. D. Bishop of Kentucky.

Rt. Rev. Charles P. McIlvaine, D. D. Bishop of Ohio.

Rt. Rev. Geo. W. Doane, Bishop of New Jersey.

NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—Divine Service was performed for the first time, on Sunday, Nov. 4th, in St. Thomas's Church, Craven county, and a sermon preached to a very full and attentive congregation, by the Rev. THOMAS S. W. MOTT. This Church was commenced a number of years since, under the auspices of the Rev. Mr. Mason, of Newbern, who occasionally visited the neighborhood.—In consequence of his leaving that place, it was left in an unfinished state, till the last summer, when Mr. MOTT, Minister at Lenoir and parts adjacent, visited the Parish, and prevailed on the congregation to complete it. It is now open for service, and will in a few weeks be ready for consecration. Divine service may be expected regularly in this church, on the first Monday in every month.

Newbern Spectator.

Christ Church.—A handsome Organ has just been purchased in New York, for the use of the Episcopal Church, in this City, which will be forwarded immediately, and put up at as early a day as practicable.—Ral. Register.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop England, of South Carolina, now on a visit to Ireland, the place of his nativity, has been greeted with the most distinguished demonstrations of respect.

Raleigh Register.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—We learn, says the Providence Journal of yesterday, that on Tuesday morning about 3 o'clock a fire broke out in the stables of the Citizens' Line Coach Company, which, together with the extensive building attached, known as the Dedham Hotel, were burnt to the ground. Sixty-six horses were consumed, together with several chaises, harness, &c. This calamity falls heavily upon an enterprizing company, with whom their friends will deeply sympathise.—Most of the noble animals were cut loose, and were, many of them, nearly taken from the burning building, but they could not be entirely removed. They rushed back into the flames, and perished with the most heart-rending screams and groans.

An election was held yesterday in the several Regiments composing the 4th Brigade, 2d Division South Carolina Militia, for a Brigadier General. Governor Hamilton was the only candidate, and is of course elected. The Union officers of the Brigade offered no candidate, and in compliance with a resolution to that effect, abstained from voting.—C. Cour.

From the Philadelphia Gazette.

Walter Scott is no more. The master-spirit has vanished,—the immortal soul, at whose bidding so many other souls have been kindled and delighted, has "gone to The Presence." Who shall fill the place of the Northern Wizard,—who shall now depict the feudal castle,—the time-worn turret,—the feats of warrior knights,—the conflicts of the tournament,—the battles against the infidels? Who shall awake the harp of St. Fillan, or paint the virtues and sufferings of Scottish life, from the high to the low? None. Some kindred spirit like Roscoe's, should commemorate the departure of such a pyramid of intellect from the waste of time. His fame is now the property of the world,—and it will be kept green for ages.—Next to Burns, Scotland cannot boast the memory of a nobler poet; and the elegiac tribute paid to the latter, is equally applicable to the lost author of the Lady of the Lake and Marmion:

"Rear high thy bleak majestic hills,
Thy sheltered valleys proudly spread;
And Scotia, pour thy thousand rills,
And wave thy heaths, with blossoms red;
For ah, what future form shall tread
Thine airy heights, thy woodland reign,
Since he, the sweetest bard is dead,
That ever pour'd the soothing strain?"

POSTSCRIPT.—In New York City, the Jackson majority is 5,500; and in 3 adjoining counties 762.

OHIO ELECTION.—Yesterday's mail brought a few additional returns of the Ohio election, which increase the National Republican gain since the Governor's election in October, and authorise the belief that the State has gone for Mr. Clay.—National Intelligencer.

Connecticut.—In this State there are 130 townships. In 105 of them (all that have been heard from) the Clay ticket has received 15,101 votes, Jackson 9,108, and Wirt 2,701.

New Jersey.—The New York papers state that Bergen (a Jackson county) has gone for Jackson, and Essex and Middlesex have given increased majorities for Mr. Clay.

Maine.—28 townships, heard from give 6304 votes for the Clay ticket and 5845 for the Jackson.

New Hampshire.—Returns from 40 townships give 5150 votes for the Clay ticket and 5374 for the Jackson ticket.

DIED,

In this town on the 7th inst., ABBIGAIL RICKARD, daughter of Mrs. Eliza Potter, aged six years and one month.

Thou can'st not feel the wintry storm
That bends the lily's breast;
For death that came to shield thy form,
Hath robe more still, and home more warm,
Than life and care possess.
Sleep on, it is a dreaming hour,
There is an eye that weeps;
Why bends its lid beneath the shower
That falls upon thy breast, frail flower,
Who feels not as it sleeps.—Communicated.

COURT.

A witness, by summons, being called to the stand,
And solemnly sworn, as he held up his hand,
Proceeding to tell what he heard and he saw,
Was sadly annoyed by a limb of the law,
"Precisely how far did you stand from the place?"
Repeated the lawyer with brow-beating face,
"Precisely how far?" said the man with a laugh—
"Precisely five feet and an inch and a half."
"But why so exact?" then the lawyer objected,
That such testimony might well be suspected.
"I thought," said the man, "some inquisitive fool
Might ask, so I measured exact by my rule."

15 Dollars Reward.

ON Thursday night last, my apprentice boy, Daniel Lyneberry, absconded, in company with a Journeyman Tailor, named Charles D. Vanhorn; and on the same night, my horse was stolen, or strayed. The boy is about 18 years of age, stout, and genteelly dressed. Vanhorn is a young man of fair complection, and about the size of the boy. The horse is a sorrel, about 8 years old, a blazed face, his left hind foot white, with one small white spot on his hip, and another on the left side of his neck, about the size of a quarter of a dollar. I will give a reward of five Dollars for the horse, ten Dollars for the thief, if stolen, with sufficient proof to convict, and one cent for the boy. All persons are forewarned from harboring or trading with him, under the penalty of the law.

HADLOCK'S

Vegetable Powder for Diseases of the Lungs.

TO THE PUBLIC.

CONSUMPTIONS, and all disorders which are traceable to a diseased state of the lungs, frequently prove fatal in their results, and have baffled the ingenuity and skill of the profession in all ages and countries. Like a stealthy enemy, they advance by unseen approaches and attack the young and unsuspecting, who are revelling in fancied security, and they are thus struck down in their beauty and strength and the middle aged, who, having become the parents of children, are often snatched away at a period when the helplessness of their little ones most needs their watchful care—the domestic circle is plunged into grief, and their loss can never be supplied. Knowing the generally fatal character of these complaints, it gave me great satisfaction, when, a few years ago, I discovered a substance which I then hoped would prove efficacious in arresting their dreadful ravages; but when, on frequent trials, I was witness to the certain and unvarying relief which it afforded to the consumptive; to those subject to bleeding at the lungs; and in cases of common colds; which so frequently have a pulmonary determination when neglected, it is particularly safe and useful in preventing any serious consequences—I felt it to be my special duty to promulgate it to the world, that those who were laboring under that terrible disorder, and in many cases were past all hope, might have an opportunity of testing its beneficial effects. The most sublime discoveries have often been the effect of the merest accident: the falling of an apple from a tree, it is well known, led the great Newton to investigate the principles which constitute gravitation; and without two pieces of glass had once been placed at a particular distance by a boy, it is not certain that we should now have possessed the telescope.
